Mr Jenkin [our principal] is a lovely guy! He doesn't get mad often and he really cares about the children. Mr Jenkin is very generous with certificates and thinks carefully about who should get one. He even made our school motto (To be the best you can possibly be!). Our amazing principal wears a black work shirt and black pants. He also has short hair. He wears glasses to help him see our great work!

At the end of each term your teacher invites one very special person from each class to have lunch in his office! You get to eat all sorts of mouth watering food like: Pizza, subway, and all sorts of YUMMY stuff. And delicious drinks like coke and lemonade. It's so so fun when you have lunch with the principal. Your teacher chooses people to go and have lunch. So watch out because you might be chosen to have lunch with Mr Jenkin.

When you behave positively your teacher might give you a P.C award (short for positive choice award). We go up to the office and put our P.C award in a special box. Every 2 weeks we go to an assembly and near the end of the assembly we greet Mr. Jenkin. He calls out P.C award names...

..and they get to stand up. Then Mr.Jenkin chooses a person who has/had a birthday today,yesterday,tomorrow,this week,last week so on and so on. Next the person with the birthday will take out 3 P.C awards and those 3 will receive a special pencil that is only winnable.

When we go to his office for super work he says good things about us and he also puts awesome stickers. He doesn't mind which subject it is he still likes the the work. We can go up to his office when its your b-day and gives you super sparkly stickers and tremendously terrific bookmarks of the special things at school like the chickens and this big shepherding doggy. I love it alot because it is CUTE!!!

So all of these nice things about Mr. Jenkin make him a very special principal to us - It is kind of like he came from a palace because most palace folk are kind.
